

APACC Annual Dinner Celebration April 29, 2006

APACC held its 5th Annual Dinner Celebration on April 29th at Royal Park Hotel in Rochester, Michigan. Over 500 guests included corporate sponsors, entrepreneurs, professionals and community leaders attended the black-tie gala. Our distinguished keynote speaker, Neil De Koker from OESA, gave a motivating speech on “Global Competitiveness through Innovation and Collaboration.” Michigan’s Governor Jennifer M. Granholm made a special appearance to congratulate APACC and their supporters for their continuous success and contributions to the state and the U.S. The evening concluded with an award to DaimlerChrysler Corporation as APACC’s 2006 Corporation of the Year. DaimlerChrysler was recognized for their advocacy and support to APACC and its mission, exemplary actions to embrace Asian Pacific American businesses and communities, and for their support for the advancement of the Asian Pacific American and other ethnic communities.
